Major Elections Set To Fill Vacated Posts

Vacated offices of student body Vice President and Activities Commissioner will be filled at a major special election which will be held on February 24 and 25.

The vacancies in official posts resulted when Alice Pappas resigned because of the time conflict with her studies and when Karl Knuth withdrew from college because of exhaustion and overwork.

Students desiring to run for these student body positions must have their petitions signed by at least 30 members of the ASSFSC and returned to the Business Office by 12 noon today.

Candidates running for the vacated offices must be members of the ASSFSC, have a 1.0 grade point average, and be thoroughly acquainted with the Constitution and By-Laws of the ASSFSC. Those candidates running for the office of student body Vice President must have completed 60 units.

Students who are candidates for Activities Commissioner must have completed 45 units. A meeting of all eligible candidates will be held today

Pat McCormick Appointed Veep

Pat McCormick was appointed to the office of Freshman Class vice president this week by President Ed Sullivan and the Frosh Class Council.

The appointment was brought about by the resignation of Tom Saunders. Mr. Saunders has transferred to another college.

According to President Sullivan, Miss McCormick has been active in Freshman activities throughout the year. She has worked on the Frosh Float Committee and the Freshman Queen Committee.

Members of the Freshman Council are: Jan Sturgeon, Sandi Strickler, Eric Hoberg, Bill Zettler, Bobbi Morrison and Joanne Gordoan.

Maestri Benefit Saturday

Fort, Leibe Lead State In Humboldt Twin Bill

Angelo Maestri, a former student of S. F. State, will receive all the proceeds derived from the second game of a two-game basketball series to be played this week end when the local hoopers host the Lumberjacks of Humboldt State.

Mr. Maestri, who graduated from S. F. in 1949, was teaching at Marina Junior High School when he was stricken with polio on October 10 of last year. Although Maestri's expenses will be taken care of by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, his fellow teachers created the Angelo Maestri Benefit Funds to supply financial aid for the support of his dependents.

A native San Franciscan, Maestri received his education at Presidio Junior High School, George Washington High School and San Francisco State college.

The Gators, unbeaten in six

(Friday, Feb. 18) in Hut T-1 and campaigning will begin Monday, Feb. 21. The election booths will be set up in the foyer of the Redwood Room and, in the event of a tie, the run-off election will be held March 3 and 4. All members of the ASFSC may vote for student body Vice President and Activities Commissioner.

Brotherhood Week Program Planned

Charles Buffum, president of the Inter-Faith Council, has announced the council's on-campus sponsorship of the 25th annual nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week, February 20-27.

A program of activities is being developed by the council, featuring talks by President J. Paul Leonard, who is co-chairman of Brotherhood Week, and Dr. Hilda Taba, an instructor in Education, plus entertainment by overseas students.

The honorary chairman of Brotherhood Week is President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the week is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Its purposes are: 1—To give people an opportunity to rededicate themselves as individuals to the basic ideals of respect for people and human rights which are essential to our way of life; 2—To dramatize the practical things which people can do to promote an understanding and realization of these ideals; and 3—To enlist the support of a larger number of people in year-round activities to build brotherhood.

conference games, are rated heavy favorites over a Humboldt quintet that has won only four out of eight league tilts.

According to Coach Dan Farmer, the starting line-up for S. F. State will include Henry Fort at forward, Bob Leibe at center and Garry Kenny at guard. Starters for the two remaining positions have yet to be announced.

Leading the Gators in their quest for victory number six will be Henry Fort. Fort, who has a total of 408 points for the season, has accounted for almost a fifth of his team's markers this year. One hundred and thirty-three of Fort's counters were made in league games.

The Lumberjacks starting line-up will consist of Harry Taylor and George Ibarreta at the forward posts, Joe Myers at center, and Paul Shields and Jerry Smith at the guard slots.

'Emehnton' Dance Follows Cager Game With Chico

Featuring the music of Rudy Salvini and his 18-piece band, the Music Federation and Newman Club will co-sponsor a dance in the women's gym, Friday, Feb. 25. The dance, lasting until 1 a. m., immediately follows the S. F. State-Chico State basketball game.

Salvini is known to State students for his participation in the Jazz Concert presented on campus last semester. Vocalist for the evening will be Kathy Demois. The dance is named "Emehnton" (which is "No Theme" spelled backwards).

Music Federation president Jack Pereira stated that with "The success the Newman Club and the Music Federation have

STUDENTS REQUESTED TO BUS OWN DISHES

Cafeteria officials today requested that students bus their own dishes. If the students fail to comply, the cafeteria will be forced to hire additional help and thus cause a rise in prices.

It was also asked that students taking dishes and utensils from the cafeteria return them.

This equipment is furnished by Food Service and not by the State. The State furnishes the buildings and supplies some of the major equipment such as chairs, tables, and curtains, but the rest is up to the Food Service.

If the students co-operate, this will enable the cafeteria to meet its costs which in turn will mean lower food prices.

Two Scholarships Offered at $400, Two at $1000

Three scholarships have been announced through Dean Dorothy Wells' office.

The Scandinavian Seminar for Cultural Studies offers two $400 scholarships for students in their junior year who are interested in spending a year in a Scandinavian country to carry out research in their particular field of interest.

Students may select Norway, Finland, or Sweden as their country of study. They will be required to live and study for a year in a Scandinavian folk school or residential college.

The cost of the entire nine-month program including board, room, and tuition is $800 plus travel.

For information concerning the scholarship see Dean Wells, Ad. 168, or write for further

FRIDAY, March 11—Last day change of program can be made without fee.

4850 Regular Students Go Through Registration Line

Registration for the 1955 spring semester brought to San Francisco State college a total enrollment of over 7400 students. Of these approximately 4850 persons are regular students and 2560 are limited students, bringing the total enrollment slightly over last semester's figures.

A revised procedure was used for registration which was held February 10, 11, and 12. For the first time in recent years, the entire program was carried on in one building, the gym. Students poured into the gym in alphabetical order groups, starting at 7:30 a. m. and continuing at hourly intervals.

Students swamped the gym to pick up their class cards from the representatives of the various divisions. Fees were paid as they left the gym and official registration booklets were turned in with the class cards.

Limited student registration began at 2:30 p. m. and lasted until 8 p. m. on Thursday and Friday and from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Saturday.

All students are reminded that after final registration if any change is necessary, students must be sure to file revised registration cards in the registrar's office after Wednesday.

'Profiles' Will Inaugurate New Drama Season

With the presentation of "Profiles" by the Players' Club, the curtain will rise on the first dramatic offering of the spring semester, in the Little Theatre tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30.

"Profiles" are nine different interpretations of the value, frailties, wholesomeness, and intrigue of life itself. Featured will be the works of Thornton Wilder, William Shakespeare, Ogden Nash, Jean Cocteau, Dorothy Parker, Anton Chekhov, T. S. Eliot, Christopher Fry, Oscar Wilde, and Thomas Wolfe.

Particular selections will be taken from "The Boy with a Cart," "The Infernal Machine," "Only the Dead Know Brooklyn," "Othello," and others.

Presented on a stage void of scenery, make-up, costume and movement, "Profiles" places total emphasis upon the spoken word. What the author has to say is the important thing. The performer who utters these words is secondary.

Directors of the show are Maureen Fegan, George Gill, and Joe Carrillo. Admission prices are 40 cents students, and 60 cents general public.

Freshman Dance Is Postponed

"Lullaby in Birdland," dance sponsored by the Freshman Class and originally scheduled to be held in the women's gym tonight, has been postponed. Procedures conforming with the S. F. State dance policies were not carried out causing the postponement.

According to the policies set up by the Board of Directors last March, anyone desiring to secure the gym for an on-campus dance must fill out special forms which must be returned to the Student Personnel Office no later than 10 days before the date of the dance. Because of an accidental misunderstanding, this particular policy was not carried out.

Frosh Secretary - Treasurer Francyne Gallo expressed the hope that "Lullaby in Birdland" will be presented before the end of the semester.

Maxwell Resigns Model U. N. Publicity Position

John P. Maxwell resigned from the position of public relations director for the Model U. N. at a special meeting arranged by Secretary General Robert Cannon.

Cannon declared that the purpose of the meeting was to clear up controversies and differences which arose when a vote by the Model U. N. Commission failing to approve Maxwell's appointment was declared null and void. The commission was set up to plan the Model U. N. Conference which S. F. State will host in May.

SPECIAL MEETING

Present at the meeting were Dean Wells, Dr. Wasserman, Chandler Meloy (conference director), Cannon, and Maxwell.

Union Changes Hours

In order to fulfill the needs of the students, the S. F. State College Union has changed its hours.

Evening Meals: Effective Monday, Feb. 14, the grill will close at 5:30 p. m. The faculty dining room will be open from 5:30 to 7 p. m., Monday through Friday, to the entire campus.

Evening Coffee: Also commencing on Monday, Feb. 14, the faculty dining room will be open from 8 to 8:30 p. m., Monday through Friday, to the entire campus.

Events leading up to Maxwell's resignation were as follows:

1—On Friday, Feb. 4, a vote, based on the assumption that Conference Director Chandler Meloy appointed Maxwell to the position of public relations director AFTER the U. N. Commission's Charter took effect, failed to approve Maxwell for the job by a 4-1 majority. Maxwell had served in the position since June of last year.

BEFORE CHARTER

2—Subsequent developments revealed that Maxwell had been appointed BEFORE the charter took effect and that Maxwell's name had been on the original charter that had been approved by the Associated Students Board of Directors, thus nullifying, in effect, the vote of February 4.

When confronted with the question as to why he resigned, Maxwell maintained that it was due to the "lack of confidence the directors (of the commission) had in my actions as exhibited in the vote."

With the hope of preventing future controversy, Cannon is formulating plans for the partial revision of the commission charter. The revision will give a more accurate definition of job descriptions within the Model U. N.

The Creative Arts

By ROBERT M. KLANG

During the last few years certain S. F. State individuals and groups of individuals (mostly of the college's administrative staff) have spent considerable energy trying to win S. F. State a sizeable place in the eyes of the public. And players of this prestige-getting game not long ago scraped together what they probably believed was the best available resources and came up with two THIS IS S. F. STATE stunts: Dedication Week and a well-publicized football season.

And what of S. F. State after these concerted publicity drives? From what we have observed very little has come of them. The academic nature of our school is the same. People still confuse the college with U. S. F. And financially the college has not greatly changed. (We remember that some of the organizers of Dedication Week said that by dedicating the campus in a big way many prosperous outsiders should feel it worthy to donate funds to the college.) Probably the only thing different is that a few more people have heard of S. F. S. C.

Now if there are some on campus who still think it necessary that our school "become known" there are possibilities for such to happen. First, however, they must get rid of the notion that prestige can be won by the speech-making, newspaper clipping, professional entertainment hiring, and political conniving of people who sit in offices and make telephone calls all day long.

This public relations job must be given to the people who attend and the people who instruct classes on the campus. It is mainly these people who can make the public have a sincere interest in S. F. State College.

And it should not be a "select" group of students and faculty members; all students and instructors in all departments of the college should help.

For the sake of expediency we shall, as an example, talk about one particular division of the school which could help to make people off campus take note of S. F. S. C. (We are, of course, assuming that this is a desirable thing.)

The Creative Arts Division, by paying special attention to the creation and production of original works (e.g., musical, dramatic) of students, cannot help but cause some kind of excitement on the part of people who are not of the college. (Instructors should act in an advisory capacity.)

Of course, these works must be of high quality, for mediocrity will do no good. And we feel certain that there is enough talent in the division for quality to be produced.

If the Creative Arts Division emphasizes the performing of over-used works that the public gave up years ago, or if the division tries to compete with professional artists by performing hot-off-Broadway pieces, its status as far as outsiders are concerned, will remain the same.

We need original art—art of more than fair quality.

This kind of student work can be carried on in other divisions: original types of research and discussion in the Science and Social Science Divisions; good creative writing in the Language Arts and Humanities Divisions; original investigations in the Psychology and Education Departments.

These are the only ways S. F. State can be successfully "broadcasted." And those who think successful publicity is necessary might do well to realize this.

'Sapien' Asks for Art, Manuscripts

The editors of "Sapien," the new socio-literary magazine published by S. F. State college students, have put in a call for manuscripts.

Claiming they want "both the polished and the rough," the editors have defined their needs in terms of relevance to the Bay Area, with a maximum of 3000 words.

Any questions regarding the magazine may be addressed to students Carl Ansberry, Stephen T. Davis, Michel Quihilt, or Dale Tussing. Manuscripts should be addressed to Sapien Associates, 2400 Eureka Street, Berkeley.

The editors also have asked for original art work, either silk-screen or linoleum block printing. There is no remuneration for either stories or art work, but the cost of materials will be covered.

The next issue of the quarterly will appear in April.

Students Participate In Sophomore Ski Trip

Fifty-one San Francisco State students took part in the Sophomore Class ski trip to States Lodge from February 1 to 6.

Included in the activities of the trip were ski instructions for beginners. Ski instructors were Jackie Overstreet, Adrienne Ayers, and Bob Carlson.

At night there was entertainment around a campfire by Leighton Simpson singing a song from "Brigadoon," and Terry Rans and Charlie Recasens doing the hula, and other acts.

Introducing...

Meet LeVeil Holmes, treasurer of the Associated Students and chairman of the Board of Control.

LeVeil was born in North Little Rock, Ark., March 5,

LEVEIL HOLMES
Treasurer, Associated Students

1933. When his family moved to Richmond, in 1945, LeVeil started junior high school there. Except for a year during his high school career, when his family moved to Corcoran, Calif., he went straight through Richmond High School and graduated in 1952.

Mr. Holmes was a very active student in high school, holding such offices as associate chairman of the California Scholarship Federation, president of the French Club, founder and president of the UNESCO Club, and Contra Costa district representative of the UNESCO Club.

LeVeil entered SFSC in the fall of 1952. Some of his accomplishments since then have been: Captain of the JV football team; president of the "Rock" for two terms; chairman of the Student Welfare Drive; program director of Student Activities; and ROTC Class representative.

LeVeil is an active member of Sigma Beta Music Club, Activities Commission, Alpha Phi Gamma Honorary Journalism Fraternity, Hui O'Aikane, IRC, CSTA, Student "Y," Freshman Camp Counsel, Freshman Club organizer and advisor, and chairman of the Board of Athletic Control.

He is a Junior majoring in Social Science with his minor in Public Speaking.

Library Will Exhibit Photographic Displays

S. F. State Library will display several new exhibits, including the works of modern photographers, during the coming semester.

At the entrance to the library a photographic exhibit depicting the beginning and development of photography, and one featuring the best works of some modern contemporary photographers will be on display.

Other exhibits will include a display on the Aspects of the Contemporary theatre in the Humanities Library, and the Creative Arts Library is featuring a set of prints depicting a festival of Louis XIV.

According to Dale Roylance, Creative Arts librarian in charge of the exhibits, and displays are changed every two weeks and all materials for the exhibits come from the library.

Smatter of Opinion

The following is the opinion of Mr. Stephen T. Davis, and does not necessarily represent that of the college, the Associated Students, or the Golden Gater.

By STEPHEN T. DAVIS

We return, anticlimactically, with a mouthful of crow and compromise, to the pages of the Golden Gater. The atmosphere remains oppressive, but our lungs are stronger; and we feel that one poor sausage is better than no pork at all.

We hope to avoid future censure by concerning ourselves with only the unimportant. We will erect mental barriers around the campus and confine our efforts to a consideration of the trifles and trivia within the hallowed realms of our dedicated institution.

What care we for international events and issues as long as the Gator Swamp remains as a refuge for the intellectually persecuted.

We have also reversed our prematurely stated decision to become a candidate for office in the spring elections. We have concluded that, were we successful in our campaign, we would be no more able to ameliorate conditions in student body affairs than we are now.

Regardless of the elections, the administration of student activities rests in the hands of as conservative and unimaginative a group as we've met.

The apathy they condemn is their 'greatest ally'. Were it not for ours, for instance, we would expose, inquire, and irritate until the students at large demanded a more adequate campus press, an equitable student body budget, and a more mature activities program.

And these things are kept from us, not because the talent is not available, but because it is hamstrung by an interlocking system of Boreds and Committees. The campus press has, with few exceptions, a competent staff, which, unfortunately, is well-nigh paralyzed by those who would like to see the Golden Gater converted

Savings in New Income Tax Law Explained Here

Launching its activities for the coming semester the Scholarastic Events Committee presents a program entitled "Your 1954 Federal Income Tax: Questions and Answers."

The program will be held in Science Building, Room 101, on February 24 at 8 p. m.

Mr. Leo McCarthy, attorney and member of the College Business Faculty, will explain the provisions of the new Federal Income Tax Law and answer such questions as: "Are you paying too much—or too little?" and "How does the new law affect your tax return?"

The cost of the program will be 50 cents for general admission and 25 cents for students.

The Scholarship Events Program is a college-wide function in co-operation with the Associated Students. The purpose of the Scholarship Events Committee is to provide a series of programs as a public service to the community as a whole and to use the receipts obtained from each meeting for student scholarships at the college.

So far seven divisional scholarships have been awarded under the program. The latest winner is Sally Karg, recipient of the Humanities Division award.

A new series of scholarships will be offered by the participating divisions in this program late in the spring semester.

into an administrative memorandum pad.

The athletic department, under the fallacious reasoning of school prestige, has been allowed to exert more influence on student activities (particularly as regards the budget) than is intelligent. And no major effort has yet been made to implement an activities program which has appeal beyond the youngsters who still play follow the leader.

If this is the time of year for distributing kudos, we would honor the unsung body of students who come to San Francisco State College to study, and who refrain from dedications, lemonades, rallies, and beauty contests (which demonstrate an uncanny ability to select the least desirable specimens on campus) because they need the time to prepare their lessons, or work for a living.

Registration has always seemed confused to most students. This year, it somehow seemed less confused than usual. There are, of course, some defects in the new system, such as the bottle-neck created at the door at which students entered, but in general it seemed to work well.

The new Registrar, Mr. Harold Soeters, and the administration of the college should be congratulated for the excellence of planning and execution apparent in the revised registration.

From the standpoint of both the faculty and the students the work load was lightened. The students were spared the burden of filling out the class cards again and again at the first meeting of classes.

Instructor's paper work was cut down, and that which was necessary was clearly and concisely defined.

We have confidence that registration procedure will continue to be improved to the relief of the entire college community. Great strides were made in that direction of this semester.

THE MAIL BAG

If the spirit should ever move you to write me a letter—and it's always a pleasure to hear from you—take pen and paper and address me c/o Philip Morris, 100 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Or if you don't have any paper, snap open your Snap-Open pack of Philip Morris, remove the fine vintage cigarettes, turn the neat brown wrapper inside out and use it for stationery. The regular size Philip Morris pack is perfect for short notes. For longer letters use the king size pack. For chain letters and petitions, glue several packs together.

This week's column is devoted to a few of the many interesting letters that have been coming in:

SIR:

Maybe you can help me. I came up to college eight years ago. On my very first day I got into a bridge game at the Students Union. I am still in the same bridge game. I have never gone to a class, cracked a book, or paid any tuition. All I do is play bridge.

To explain my long absence and keep the money coming from home, I told a harmless little lie. I said I was in medical school. This made Dad (my father) very proud. It also enabled me to keep playing bridge. We were both terribly happy.

But all good things must come to an end. Mine ended last week when I was home for spring vacation. I arrived to find that Sister (my sister) was in the hospital with an ingrown spleen. Dr. Norbert Sigafos, the eminent ingrown spleen surgeon, was scheduled to operate, but unfortunately he was run over by a hot-food cart on the way to the scrubbing room.

"Oh, never mind," chuckled Dad (my father). "Harlow (me) will fix Sister (my sister)."

Well sir, what could I do? If I told the truth I would make a laughingstock out of Dad (my father) who had been bragging about me all over town. Also I would get yanked out of school which would be a dirty shame just when I am getting to understand the weak club bid.

There was nothing for it but to brazen it out. I got Sister (my sister) apart all right, but I must confess myself completely at a loss as to how to put her back together again. Can you suggest anything? They're getting pretty surly around here.

Harlow Protein

Dear Harlow,

Indeed I do have a solution for you—the solution that has never failed me whenever things close in: Light up a Philip Morris! Knots untie as you puff that rich vintage tobacco. Shade becomes light as you taste that mild fragrant flavor . . . And as you watch the pure white smoke drift lazily upward, you will know that nothing is as bad as it seems, that it is always darkest before the dawn, and that the man worthwhile is the man who can smile!

SIR:

Do you think a girl should kiss a fellow on their first date?
Blanche Carbohydrate

Dear Blanche,

Not unless he is her escort.

SIR:

Here is a rather amusing coincidence that may amuse your readers.

Just off the campus where I go to school there is a lake called Lake Widgiwagan where students from time immemorial have gone fishing. Thirty years ago when my father was an undergraduate here he went fishing one day at Widgiwagan and dropped his Deke pin into the water. Though he dived for it for many weeks, he never recovered it.

Just yesterday—thirty years later, mind you—I went fishing at Widgiwagan. I caught a four pound bass. When I got the fish home and opened it up, what do you think I found inside of it? You guessed it! Two tickets to the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

Fleance Fat

Dear Fleance,

It certainly is a small world.

History, Origin of Playing Cards Provides Strange, Colorful Story

By LEROY PACINI

The following is dedicated to regular card players of the Gator Swamp and all Rec. 3 instructors and students, as a public service so that they may be reminded of the rich heritage which is theirs and the glorious tradition which they must uphold.

The history of playing cards is a strange and colorful one, having been played by rich and poor (the poor only thus having lost), barbarians and royalty alike. Its origin is as confused as a low freshman trying to register, for historians can't seem to make up their minds. There are as many theories as there are historians. If you want an easy major and classy title, be a historian with a playing card emphasis.

DRAWBACK TO PLAN

The only drawback to such a proposed plan is that you may become like the tavern owner who drank all his profits. There's one case on file in the Gator office of a playing card historian who dug up so many ancient ruins (including the old campus) in which he discovered old-time playing cards, that he soon learned to play poker in 10 different languages with as many different types of cards. He finally met his match while playing strip poker with an Egyptian mummy who cheated, and he now lies beneath a pyramid swathed in gauze.

Some of these historians say playing cards were introduced in China around 1120 A. D., while others claim the Moors first used them and introduced cards to Europe when they invaded Spain. One historian persists that Charles VI of France first brought cards to light in 1392 A. D., while another claims the Italians first used cards in the Thirteenth Century to tell fortunes. Others say they have proof that cards first showed up in such places as Egypt, Tibet, Persia and India.

PREVIOUSLY 20-72 CARDS

It seems to be a case of 6-5 and take your pick. What just about everyone agrees on, however, is that Elizabeth, Queen of England (1558-1603), was one of the first important individuals to become intrigued with cards, and that she standardized the number of 52 cards in a deck. Previously, numbers ranged anywhere from 20 to 72, and all you could palm or hide up your sleeve. It was also Elizabeth that standardized the use of symbols which we still use today. The Kings in a deck represent David, Alexander, Caesar and Charlemagne. And all the time we thought they stood for Farouk, Cole (Nat), Tut and that guy from the Royal Mounted.

Betty, as intimates and close enemies called Elizabeth in those days, played the first card game of definite existence—"Ruff and Honours." The rules were gradually changed through the years, and many variations occurred. This game was the granddaddy of many of our present games.

ACCORDING TO HOYLE

It is theorized that games were always played in silence in that era, and the "kibitzers" were told to "whist"—which meant to shut up. Thus the game of whist became known. The variations of this game eventually led to contract bridge. Of course, we all know how Edmund Hoyle of "according to Hoyle," wrote the first book on whist in 1742, and how we still play by his basic rules.

The most popular games in the United States are bridge, pinochle, poker and gin rummy. Strange as it seems, England originated poker. Only in those days around the Eighteenth Century, the game was played with 20 cards and was called "brag," because the man who could brag—or bluff—best about his hand, was the one who brought home the most blue chips.

LEIBEMAN SPECTACULAR

Yes, cards have a long and illustrious history. They have survived the ravages of time, wars, high stakes and Nick the Greek. Oh, what a spectacular Max Leibeman could make out of their history, with the Old Gold dancing cigarettes playing the card case and Jackie Gleason's dancers impersonating the 52 cards—and Pinky Lee as Joker.

But as a warning to those who tend to become card fanatics, always remember the tragic case of a German named Leuben (he lost his first name in a strip poker game at the Follies Bergere, where the game originated), whom the Police Gazette claims is still alive and in South America. He wagered he could turn up a shuffled pack in a certain order. He turned cards 10 hours daily for 20 years. On his 4,246,028 try he finally made it. He had in the meantime gone insane.

Professors Present Work In Painting and Sculpture

Oil paintings, water colors, pen and ink drawings, wood and ceramic sculpture, and photographs by members of the San Francisco State College art faculty will be exhibited in room 220, AI building, from February 21 to March 4.

The art show, sponsored by the S. F. State Art Club, will include an abstract landscape and non-objective expression by Alexander Nepote; a depiction of the Redwoods done entirely in yellow, turquoise blue, and magenta water colors by Waldemar Johansen; and a sanguine line drawing by John Gutmann.

A piece of ceramic sculpture done with a high-temperature reduction iron glaze by John Magnani will be complemented by a series of photographs by Robert Hall which shows the development of the sculpture form through its various stages. William Shelley will present a paper sculpture depicting a ram.

The contribution of Nelson Wu, a calligraphy exhibit, was created by using a Chinese brush and ink on paper. Woven by Margery Livingston, a case made of linen, spun silk, and mohair will also be on display. Mayo Bryce has created two lithographs, "Cape Cod," and "Scene in Automat," as well as a portrait sculpture.

A STUDENT'S BEST FRIEND is Lucky Strike. At any rate, the greatest, up-to-date college survey shows that college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands—and by a wide margin. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Luckies taste better anywhere, any time, as illustrated in the Droodle

NOTHING

(The Sum Total of This Column's Worth)

By HANK CUNNINGHAM

While tripping lightly through the corridors of the gym in quest of enough news to satisfy the shrieking demands of our mighty editor, I chanced upon a "long gray line" bordering the office walls. Closer inspection revealed that said line was comprised of a group of sterling young men, briefly attired in those briefest of gray briefs the college furnishes those who frequent the local pool. In short, I had stumbled upon a batch of new, and apparently healthy specimens of young manhood, then in the process of undergoing the required physical examination. Some were chilly (it figures), some were nervous and some were just plain bored. The similarity to army physicals was startling.

Future Stars . . . If They Try Out

All of them were casually hugging the wall and, if personal experience is at all reliable, were doing their best to convince themselves that those swim suits were ten sizes larger.

The purpose of this little bit of NOTHING is to note that from such groups will come the future athletic stars of S. F. State College . . . IF THEY TRY OUT! That is a mighty big "IF!"

Far too often students who have shone in high school athletics are reluctant to answer the call of college coaches for fear of failing. Yet by succumbing to this fear they are actually failing both themselves, and the college.

It Could Happen to You!

Then there are the lads who not only didn't shine in high school sports, they didn't even flicker. They also tend automatically to consider themselves outsiders looking in. The fact of the matter is that for such people the situation is made to order. The slate is clean. The coach doesn't know their past or present, but he may become very interested in their future. Many men who weren't able to qualify for third string water boy because of lack of co-ordination, suddenly develops this co-ordination after leaving high school and become the hero of the day. It COULD happen to you!

Let this be your invitation to take a crack at the sport of your choosing. Don't be a gutless wonder always wondering. Live dangerously. Both your school and you will benefit.

JV's Drop Cal Aggies In Preliminary Games

S. F. States' Junior Varsity cagers won two games from the Cal Aggies J. V.'s last week end. The first victory on Friday was by a score of 59-48 in Davis. Saturday night State defeated the Aggies in the Gator gym, 55-45.

Both games were preliminaries to the varsity contests.

Two weeks ago, the J. V.'s reached the halfway mark in their full 19-game schedule when they won a double-header on Friday, Feb. 4, in the local gym.

The first game found the junior hoopsters pitted against the Veterans of Foreign Wars post. Sparked by the 13-point contribution of John Mathis, the Gators finished the contest with a 55-51 point win. The V. F. W. team was able to furnish only five players for the game. When one of their players was injured, the game came to a premature end.

Victory number two for the Gator Junior Varsity was achieved at the expense of a stubborn Poly High School squad which lost by a narrow 51-49 margin.

In a battle regulated by the high school system of timing by quarters, the Gators led by no more than four points at any time in the game. Though the local quintet led at the half, their lead was relinquished in the third period when Poly surged into a 39-38 lead. The junior Gators fought back in the final frame and finished in the winner's circle.

Leading scorers for State were Bob Lincoln and John Mathis with 10 markers each. Poly High's two top performers were Young with 12 and Cutritelli with 9.

Wrestlers Defeat Bluejackets, 31-6

In their match last Friday night against Treasure Island, State's matmen crushed the Bluejackets by the score of 31 to 6. The feature match of the evening was between Captains Bill Dorffi of the Gators and Jess Harmon of the Navy. Harmon defeated Dorffi by the score of 6-5.

The following evening was an exhibition with Alameda Naval Air Station. The unofficial score at the finish was a 20-20 tie.

On February 22 and 24, State's grapplers will be matched against Alameda and Santa Clara, respectively. The feature match with Alameda will be "All Navy Champ" Chief Renner versus Billy Schmidt of the Gators.

With Santa Clara the main match will be between Ade Eitner, student coach at Santa Clara and Mike Cohen of S. F. State. These matches should be very close according to Bill Dorffi.

SKI CLUB PROPOSES FIRST TRIP TO SNOW

Members of the newly organized S. F. State Ski Club have made plans to have their first trip of the season at Dodge Ridge on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

All students and faculty interested in joining the club may do so for $2.50 a semester.

Rights of membership in the club include reduced rates at some major resorts and discounts on the purchase and rental of equipment locally.

Those interested in joining the club are urged to leave their name and phone number in the Ski Club mail box in Hut T-1.

San Jose Dumps S. F. State, 63-53

San Francisco States' Golden Gators blew a 31-29 half-time lead over San Jose State, last week, when they bowed to the Spartans, 63-53.

Shortly after half-time, the home team Spartans forged ahead, 32-31, and were never headed again. San Francisco made a valiant comeback try late in the ball game, but the CBA representatives halted the Gators and staged a rally of their own.

Bob Leibe, San Francisco's center, paced the Gators with 16 points, while Ron Rosenberg contributed 10. Henry Fort, State's explosive scorer throughout the season, was held to nine points.

Two Spartans accounted for most of the damage done to the Gator quintet. Bud Hjelm and Carol Williams shared high point honors with 22 apiece. Williams scored 10 free throws in 10 attempts.

TENNIS PRACTICE BEGINS NEXT FRIDAY

The 1955 tennis season is currently getting under way and Coach Dan Farmer has extended an invitation to tennis players to sign up immediately. One unit of credit may be received for participation in this sport.

Official practice begins on Friday, Feb. 25, from 12 to 2 p. m. Assignments can be made to accommodate students who are unable to practice during those hours.

Last year, S. F. State captured the number one spot in the Far Western Conference doubles competition, though they lost the singles championship.

Returning to represent State in this season's competition will be letterman Gene Ravaglioli. Siding Ravaglioli will be Stan Altschuler and Sam Lipman, two men expected to contribute greatly to the Gator cause.

Gator Cagers Sweep Two From Cal Aggies

San Francisco State's basketball team swept its two-game series with the California Aggies last Friday and Saturday nights to remain undefeated in Far West Conference play with a 6-0 record.

In the game Friday night, the Gators led at half-time, 44-24, and maintained their lead to beat the Cal Aggies, 78-56. High point man for the evening was Bob Leibe with 26 and Hank Fort, who accounted for 14 of the winning points.

Saturday night the Gators again crushed the Cal Aggies by a score of 88-58. Again leading at the half, this time by a score of 41-24, the Gators went all the way to cinch second place in the Far West Conference.

Board of Directors Votes to Discontinue NSA Membership

The Board of Directors voted on February 15 to discontinue the membership of ASSFSC in the National Students' Association.

Associated Students' President Bob Horn advised the board to vote against renewing membership in NSA since he felt that although the organization had been valuable to a certain extent, it had not offered enough to the Associated Students for the $125 membership dues.

President Bob Horn, in a letter to the National President Harry Lund, stated "We do not feel that we are getting our money's worth by belonging to NSA." He further added that "The Pacific Students Presidents Association supplies more adequate information functional to the West Coast and, being a growing college, it is difficult to expend effort and money on the weak regional association of NSA colleges."

Efforts by the National Students' Association to gain a foothold on the San Francisco State college campus have been numerous. Last fall the national president, Harry Lund, attended one of the Board of Directors meetings and spoke on the future of NSA on the West Coast. Jim Edwards, president of NSA in 1953, toured our campus with a group of Asian students last November.

At present, only four colleges remain in the Northern California regional council. The weakness of the area council was one of the major reasons for the Board of Directors action.

The program of National Student Association has been termed "too closely associated with the Eastern colleges."

Temporary NSA co-ordinator for the campus, Claude Crownover, stated "The future of NSA in Northern California is seriously weakened by San Francisco State college's failure to renew its membership. I feel that NSA can give added strength to our campus program and that the Board of Directors should reconsider its recent action."

Walter Warren was appointed as the new chairman of the Judicial Council. Former chairman, Robert Preble, submitted a letter of resignation to Bob Horn at the meeting.

The board voted to sponsor a lecture to be given by Bennett Cerf, president of Random House and panelist on the nationally known TV show "What's My Line," on March 3 providing the auditorium could be obtained for that day.

The board voted to sponsor a Model U. N. rally on March 17.

day, Feb. 16. After February 25, a fee of $2.00 will be made for all changes.

Culminating registration, the ASSFSC sponsored the only admission-free dance of the semester on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock and lasting until 1 a. m. The dance, traditional at S. F. State, featured the music of Bob Summers and his band, and the chairman was Bob Stevens.

had with their own dances in the past, and considering the fine band that will be performing on February 25, I feel that this dance should be one of the outstanding social events in S. F. State's history."

Dress for the affair will be sport. Tickets are priced at $1 stag and $1.50 per couple.

Co-chairmen of the dance are Tom Kearny, president of Newman Club, and Pereira. Ed Harrington, social director of Newman, is in charge of publicity. Both chairmen urge all students to attend the dance.

Partisans Club Sponsors Discussion About Formosa

Is Formosa worth a war?

A general discussion on the tempest in the Far East will be held in the Activities Room of the college's Administration Building this Wednesday, Feb. 23, at noon.

There will be no speakers or lecturers as such, but student Jerry Schimmell will moderate, according to Dale Tussing, president of the sponsoring Partisans' Club. Students are encouraged to bring their lunches and discuss together informally.

General questions involved are the likelihood of China invading the island of Formosa, the risk of a general war involved in U. S. intervention; the existence or non-existence of alternatives to present United States policy; and the role of the United Nations in a possible cease-fire or other action.

Recently recognized for on-campus status, the Partisans' Club is organized for the purpose of discussion, partisan political activity within the context of the two major organized political parties, and dissemination of information regarding current political topics.

In addition to the informal discussions planned for this semester, there are to be several special events involving special speakers, including S. F. State and other local professors, party leaders and administrators.

Students interested in the Partisans' Club but who are unable to attend the Wednesday meeting may contact Partisans' officers Dale Tussing, JoAnn Tuttle, Stan Little, or Robert Anderson.
